

Memories of South Korea
Ezazul Haque

Scorching heat in the beach a pigeon flaps its wings to cool the wind a bit

greenish blue sea children's giggling
the sound of wave frighten a lost fish the sun hides behind the mountains the sea starts to swell millions of dragonflies come rushing from the east in this sad and selfish country only birds are friendly